“LEST WE FORGET”

This book does two things. It furnishes an epitome of the outstanding war of history, and it puts on sacred record the part played in the dreadful drama by the men and women of our own district. There is a sense in which the history of any period can not be properly written by any historian of the same period. He is without perspective. Details due to prejudice or predilection are omitted or included. Judgements are jaundiced. Immature conclusions are reached. There is a sense in which, if data is to be preserved in an accurate form, it must be written as soon as may be after the event. The “general outline” in this book has been sifted and certified. It will therefore be valuable to different people for different reasons. There are those to whom the great histories of war will never be practically available. They have no time for them. They have no desire. They have not been dowered with the gift or developed the habit of reading. Memory is short, and they want a convenient summary to which they may refer wherewith to refresh their fading recollections. But students also require something which can easily be compelled to disgorge a fact. When we come to the second part, what our own particular district has done, who does not wish to preserve a record of which every citizen is most justly proud? We shall always be in debt to those who have so sympathetically and exhaustively fulfilled this task. In no general history or record of the war could we hope to find local details which are dear to all that is best in imperial citizenship. If this book had not been written now much of what it contains would, in the passing of time, have been lost for ever. It reflects much careful, painstaking work in which no type of contribution to our land in her day of trial has been overlooked. Wishaw and district do not require to be ashamed of what they have done. No finer Territorial Battalion answered the call on the 4th August 1914, than the 8th Highland light subsequently rushed voluntary to the colours placed our town high in the records of loyalty. The silent, unostentatious demonstrations of devotion will never be known: the sacrifice of women, their concealed anguish, their unremitting love. It is easy to admire the broad features of a great picture and miss the significant details. Willingness and generosity and the aggregation of individual sacrifice can never be tabulated. And where have we arrived? At the overthrow of a combine of nations whose object was to conquer the world to itself. Self-interest, they said, would prove the conquering motive. They gave a demonstration to the world of the power and weakness of self-interest and of the shabby length it could go in its ruthless endeavour to achieve its purpose.

When this mad world becomes sane again, she will, with good-will, begin to work in peace under a banner inscribed:

“That which brings prosperity and happiness to all

Brings prosperity and happiness to us”

V.C. HEROES

The records of the glorious deeds performed during the Great War contain no more thrilling examples of valour than those gained for the men whose portraits adorn this page the highest honour that can fall to the British soldier - the Victoria Cross.

In June 1917, the community was thrilled by the announcement that “one of their own” had been awarded the Victoria Cross. This was Private William Johnstone Milne, of the 16th Canadian Infantry battalion, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Milne, 6 Steel’s Land, Cambusnethan.

Private W J Milne, VC

Word had previously been received that he had fallen in action on the Western front on 9th April. The official account of the gallantry which earned for him the coveted decoration reads:-

“On approaching the first objective, Pte. Milne observed an enemy machine gun firing on our advancing troops. Crawling on hands and knees, he succeeded in reaching the gun, killing the crew with bombs, and capturing the gun. On the line re-forming, he again located a machine gun in the support line, and stalking this second gun as he had done the first, he succeeded in putting the crew out of action and capturing the gun.

“His wonderful bravery and resource on these two occasions undoubtedly saved the lives of many of his comrades. Pte. Milne was killed shortly after capturing the second gun.”

His Majesty the King wrote expressing sincere regret that the death of Private Milne had deprived him of the “pride of personally conferring upon him the Victoria Cross—the greatest of all rewards for valour and devotion to duty.” In the interval the death had occurred of the V.C.’s father, and Mrs Milne being unable to visit Buckingham Palace and receive at the hands of the King the decoration for her late son, the medal was forwarded by post, and remains with her a cherished possession. Twenty-five years old at the time of his death, Private Milne, V.C., was born in Anderson Street. He was educated at Newmains School, which numbers amongst its former pupils not a few who have distinguished themselves on the battlefield. Private Milne afterwards took to farming, and continued in that occupation after he emigrated to Canada, where, with many another noble son of Scotland, he responded to the call of the Motherland in her need. The V.C. lies buried where he fell on the battlefield, the spot being marked by a simple cross. In August, 1917, the Town Council placed on record their high appreciation of the gallantry of Private Milne; and from the Burgh Hero Fund a substantial grant was made to the Hero’s widowed mother.

Corporal William Clamp, Flemington, one of the old 6th Scottish Rifles, rushed a German blockhouse single-handed in order to save his comrades from a hail of death which was being poured into them by German machine gunners. On the same day he fell—the victim of a lurking enemy sniper. For this deed of heroism the posthumous award of the V.C. was made. To commemorate the event, there is gifted annually a Gold medal to Craigneuk Public School, where the gallant Corporal received his early education. He had also a connection with Craigneuk by reason of his association with the local Good Templars Lodge.

Corporal Wm. Clamp, VC

The case of Corporal William Angus, 8th H.L.I., has elements in it which single it out pre-eminent as an epic of calculated heroism. Though warned that it was almost certain death, the gallant Territorial went over the top and rescued his officer and fellow-townsmen, Lieutenant Martin, from a position of imminent peril close to the German trenches at Givenchy on the 12th June, 1915. He succeeded in his mission, but in the act sustained 40 wounds—only 16 of them serious—he modestly informed the King, who had commented on the fact. For this most glorious deed of heroism he was decorated by His Majesty with the “very highest honour in the world”—the Victoria Cross.

On September 3, 1915, the hero was welcomed at Carluke at a memorable gathering representative of the whole County, and was presented in the market Square by Lord Newlands, Vice-Lieutenant of the County, with a clock and investment amounting to £1000 in the War Loan. At the same time he was presented by Lieutenant Martin with a gold watch, and was also the recipient of an address from the Lanarkshire Territorial Force in respect that he was “in the exceptional position of having received the very first Victoria Cross which has been awarded to a member of a Scottish Territorial Regiment.” Four days later, Corporal Angus V.C. who had been Captain of Wishaw Thistle Football Club, was given an enthusiastic public and civic reception in the pavilion, Wishaw, when he was presented at the hands of Provost Nimmo, in name of the community, with a silver loving cup and the sum of £70.

WISHAW'S PART IN THE GREAT WAR

Within the scope of a brief review it is not possible to adequately describe and do justice to the neighbourhood played in the greatest war in history. The intention is rather to give a fairly comprehensive outline of what was accomplished in the district during the years of the terrible conflict. The community gave freely and of its best in men, money, munitions, and self-sacrificing labour, to the end that Right might prevail over Might; and it is no exaggerated claim that its magnificent efforts very materially contributed to the securing of a victorious peace.

OUR HEROIC TERRITORIALS

The memorable 4th of August, 1914, dawned ominously. On that day the grim reality of War was brought forcibly home to the inhabitants by the calling out of the Reserves and the mobilisation of the Territorials. The latter had newly returned from Camp. Looking tanned and fit by their recent training at Gailles, they stirred the emotions as, the following morning, they proudly marched away and entrained for their war station on the West Coast. Later these gallant men and the other Territorial units were to prove their worth on many a hard-fought field in France and Flanders, as well as in other parts of the far-flung battle line. Side by side with their comrades of the Regulars – the old “Contemptibles” – they bore the brunt in warding off the attacks made by the unscrupulous foe, often in overwhelming strength, and nobly they upheld the best traditions of the British Army. Their deeds of deathless heroism are written large in the part they played a grateful country will hold them in undying remembrance.

ANSWERING THE CALL

Meanwhile, at home, there was a call for men and yet more men to form new Armies, and to the credit of the district be it said, the response was wholehearted and generous. Actuated by the loftiest patriotism, the young men left the mines and the workshops, the counter and the desk, and rallied to their country's aid, literally besieging the special recruiting stations which were opened in the locality. And not they young men only. Many veterans of the National Reserve and others readily offered their services, some for home defence to relieve the Territorials for sterner work abroad, and others for active service. From first to last Wishaw contributed upwards of 3050 men to His Majesty's Forces. It meant a heavy toll on the young manhood of the community, for fully 400 made the supreme sacrifice in the cause of right and liberty; and there is no front on which some spot is not hallowed as the last resting-place of our gallant lads. The first local soldier to fall in the War was Lance-Corporal John Rodger, of the Cameron Highlanders – 27th September 1914; and the first break in the ranks of the Territorials occurred when Private Alexander Adam, Netherton, died of wounds received in action – 27th March, 1915.

WAR HONOURS

It was in the beginning of October that local casualties began to come through, and from that time the list continued to mount up with depressing regularity. Sometimes the numbers went up with an alarming bound, as after Festubert, in which so many of our Territorials were engaged and suffered. But a feeling not of sadness only, but of pride in our lads was evoked by reason of the honours which came thick and fast to them in recognition of the great gallantry which they displayed. Wishaw is proud that the greatest distinction which can fall to a soldier – the Victoria Cross – was gained by one of its sons – Private William J Milne, Cambusnethan, who, unfortunately, was not spared to wear the coveted decoration. Altogether, over 100 War Medals were won by Wishaw men.

ALLEVIATING DISTRESS

No sooner were hostilities commenced than responsible people at home set to work to make arrangements for alleviating so far as lay in their power the sorrow and the suffering that would inevitably come to most households. Branches of the County War Relief Fund were formed, and from the start, subscriptions were regularly and liberally made by local business and work people, amounting in all to about £8500. By this means the dependants of the men on service had their rents and rates paid during the War, and cases of distress were relieved. Much of the money raised for the relief of suffering caused by the War went to Belgian refugees, quite a number of whom found a temporary asylum here, as in other parts of the country. One of their best helpers was our townsman, Dean Van Hecke, who by lectures raised for them much money, and in various other ways proved a friend indeed to his unfortunate compatriots. Much good work on behalf of the sailors' and soldiers' dependants was done by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Families Association, the duties of which organisation were latterly taken over by the Naval and Military War Pensions Committee. Several thousand cases were sympathetically dealt with by those bodies, of which Mr A G Stewart, Town Clerk, was secretary, and Mr W Lindsay, Burgh Chamberlain, treasurer, the latter also acting in a similar capacity for the local War Relief Fund.

PROVIDING THE "SILVER BULLETS"

It is difficult to put a figure on the amount which Wishaw contributed to War Charities, but from first to last the sum could not have been far short of £30,000. Large sums were subscribed weekly and monthly; there was not a Church, a Work, a Club, or Society which did not contribute its share. Amongst the special efforts made to raise money, Flag Days were the most popular and successful; and by this means not only our own folks but all our Allies received a helping hand. Not the least creditable part played by the town and district was in providing the “silver bullets” – as necessary to the successful waging of the War as munitions. War Savings Associations to the number of about a score were formed in connection with the Churches, Schools and Public Works. At least three special campaigns were organised. In connection with one of these – War Weapons Week – the sum of £50,000 (the price of a destroyer) was aimed at, and the amount actually subscribed was £115,000. Altogether the amount loaned to the Government reached a total of £320,000, made up as follows: War Bonds, £247,400; War Savings Certificates, £72,600 – which works out at about £13 per head of the population. The efforts of Provost Loudon as Chairman, and Mr Thomas Rae, solicitor, as Secretary of the War Savings Committee, were largely responsible for the splendid success of the War Savings movement.

WAR-TIME LEGISLATION

It is noteworthy in connection with the administration of local affairs that the election of public bodies was suspended during the War. All schemes involving large expenditure were also delayed, except where Government sanction was obtained on the ground of special urgency. The business of our Public Boards was therefore more or less of a routine nature, but this was supplemented by administrative work imposed by war-time legislation. On the Town Council as Local Authority fell the heavier burden of these extra duties. Prominent in this class of legislation was the National Registration Act, under which all persons between the ages of 15 and 60 were called upon to register, the details thus obtained providing the Government with valuable data regarding the reserve strength of the country. The Civic Head of the Burgh during the strain and stress of War was Provost Nimmo, who actively led the community in the various local schemes and projects tending to the advancement of the cause for which the country was at War. He was succeeded as Chief Magistrate, shortly before the Armistice was signed, by Provost Loudon, whose colleagues unanimously conferred upon him this high honour largely in recognition of his indefatigable and valuable labours during the War.

CONSERVING THE NECESSITIES

Loyally and patriotically the community obeyed the national call for economy and the conserving of necessities. To husband the fuel supplies and as a precaution against threatened air-raids, stringent lighting restrictions were adopted. Rationing was enforced both as regards food stuff and coal, separate Committees being in existence for the fair distribution of these commodities. The inhabitants very heartily entered into the scheme to augment the food supplies by the cultivation of ground set aside as allotments. As many as 800 plots were worked throughout the Burgh, an immense quantity of potatoes and other vegetables thus being raised. This movement gives promise of having come to stay. Mention may also be made here of the control of the liquor traffic, resulting in the reduction of the hours of opening of licensed premises and the lessening of the strength of the liquor sold. The effect of these restrictions was reflected in the local Police Court, petty crime being reduced to a minimum, and Maiden Courts being of frequent occurrence.

THE LOCAL TRIBUNAL

Amongst other bodies called into being by the exigencies of War was the Local Tribunal, a court of representative citizens which sat for the consideration of claims for exemption from service with the Forces of men of military age resident within the Burgh. This Tribunal was in existence from January 1916 until the signing of the Armistice in the latter end of 1918. During that time between 600 and 700 cases were dealt with, these including renewed claims and applications by the Military for withdrawal of exemptions. Obviously the decisions of the court could not give satisfaction to all concerned, but the difficult and delicate, and, moreover, thankless work involved was faithfully and efficiently discharged. Provost Nimmo to begin with, and latterly and for the greater part of the Tribunal's regime, Ex-Provost Thomson, acted as Chairman, and the Town Clerk, Mr A G Stewart, was Clerk.

CITIZEN VOLUNTEERS

Early in the War a company of the Citizen Volunteer Training Corps was formed in the town of men over Military age, and drill was regularly engaged in under competent instructors. Later, Government recognition was given to the Volunteer movement, uniforms and equipment were provided, and Army instructors imparted a sound training in musketry, bayonet fighting, and field movements. The local C.O.'s were Lieutenant W Calderhead and 2nd Lieutenant G N Pomphrey. Unless in exceptional cases, exemption by the Burgh Tribunal was conditional on men joining the Volunteers. Some of those so trained were afterwards drafted into the Regular Forces. For a considerable period the Volunteers undertook important observation duty in the Upper Ward of Lanarkshire, and during the critical months in the summer of 1918, a number of them were posted to the defences on the East Coast. A special medal is to be given to the Volunteers in commemoration of their home defence services; and on demobilisation, certificates of thanks, bearing the signature of the Secretary of State for War, were issued.

SPECIAL CONSTABLES

Shortly after hostilities commenced, a call was made by the Chief Constable to the men of the County Constabulary for volunteers for military service, and every man offered himself. A selection was made of the younger and fitter men, the result being that every station became considerably understaffed. Particularly was this the case in Wishaw; and an appeal for special constables was responded to by about 40 local gentlemen. They were under the charge of Superintendent Hugh Easton and Sub-Inspector W Calderhead. Each evening the town was patrolled by the "Specials" until their services were no longer required. They always held themselves in readiness in case of emergency, and on at least one occasion turned out and were on duty all night in connection with a threatened enemy air raid. On being disbanded, the men were personally thanked for their services by Captain Despard, Chief Constable, who, on behalf of the Standing Joint Committee, also presented them with souvenir batons. In addition the Special Constables were the recipients of illuminated certificates of acknowledgment from the Provost and Magistrates of the Burgh.

PUBLIC WORKS AND THE WAR

The full resources of the public works of the district were at the disposal of His Majesty's and the Allied Governments during the War. Immense quantities of material were turned out for constructional purposes at home and abroad; for the making of guns, shells, bombs, explosives, aeroplanes, tanks, submarines and other war vessels; motor lorries and tractors were provided for the Army, and in other ways too numerous to mention the works made a wonderful contribution to the successful carrying through of the war.

WHAT THE WOMEN ACCOMPLISHED

The ranks of the men employed in the industries of the district being seriously depleted by the demands of His Majesty's Forces, the breach was splendidly filled by the women, who nobly rose to the occasion, and did yeoman service in spheres for which it was previously thought they were wholly unfitted. Not only as munition workers, but in the public services – post office, railway, tramway, and corporation – the women efficiently and effectively rallied to the help of their country in her great need. A splendid response was made to the appeal for the registration of women prepared to take suitable service which would lead to the release of men for War service, and a large number of local ladies joined the various Auxiliary Service Corps which were formed. And the work which the women of the locality accomplished in their own sphere was equally remarkable. What the brave lads on service would have done lacking the many comforts which their nimble fingers and loving hearts generously provided is difficult to imagine. The work they performed individually and through the medium of the Churches, Work Parties, Women's Guilds, and other organisations is specially worthy of being recorded, and is deserving of the warmest praise and acknowledgement.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Another sphere in which our womenfolk distinguished themselves was that of the Red Cross. At the outbreak of hostilities the town had in being two highly qualified Voluntary Aid Detachments – Men's and Women's. From these an incentive and recruiting were derived for most of the valuable Red Cross Relief Work performed in the neighbourhood during the War.

Little opportunity occurred locally for the trained service of the detachments, but six women and nine men left for active service, while members of the Women's Section took turns of regular work at Hartwoodhill and other auxiliary hospitals. The detachments held themselves ready to be called upon in the event of enemy air-raid or other untoward happening. Apart from that the members performed useful work in an ambulance capacity on many public occasions, and rendered most valuable aid to Mr Matheson, the local organiser, in the campaign for money raising.

As the war increased in magnitude, difficulty arose in the way of getting a sufficiency of bandages, and a county effort was made to relieve the deficit. Accordingly, in September, 1916, the Ladies' Sphagnum Moss Work Party was formed. The Town Council placed their Chambers at the free disposal of the party, and the ladies gave weekly contributions to meet expenses, while kind friends locally contributed money as well as muslin and like materials. Sphagnum moss was collected near and far. When the party ceased work there had been dispatched from Wishaw, 10,589 dressings, 3,400 muslin bags, besides many sacks of pillow moss and a large number of hospital bags. To aid the Red Cross funds, the ladies of the Party opened a shop for the sale of donations in kind, with a tea room attached. From the month's shop venture a net profit of £348 16s 3d was realised. The inception and work of the Sphagnum Moss Work Party were due to Miss Houldsworth, Mrs Scott, Mrs McIntyre and Mrs Cowan. Girl Guides also gave ready help.

Another valuable agency for relieving suffering, the Wishaw War Hospital Supply Depot, was inaugurated on 30th April 1917, being registered by the War Office, with Mrs Shirlaw as convener, and Mrs Watt, secretary. The average attendance at the by-weekly meetings was 25, and the scope and importance of the work will be appreciated when it is mentioned that close on 60,000 dressings were forwarded to official depots.

The interest of the Houldsworth Family in Red Cross Work resulted also in valuable material and financial aid. Church Work Parties were likewise to the fore with generous and large support to war hospital appeals.

The monetary appeals made by Wishaw Red Cross Committee, of which Provost Loudon was chairman, and Mr Matheson, secretary, received gratifying support. Able assistance on Flag Days (which produced in all £520), was rendered by Miss Rankin (Public School); Mr G W D Millikin and teachers generally, VAD members, Y.M.C.A. Boy Scouts (under Mr Ramage), and others; while Mrs Wright, Overtown, and Bailies Frew and McMahon, Craigneuk, gave of their best to the good work generally. Apart from the Flag Days, the large items of revenue were as follows: "Bring and Buy" Sale at auction Mart, £1106 6s 11d; Fete at Coltness, £654 14s 9d; Penny-a-Week Fund (per Miss Rankin), £284 1s 8d; Wishaw and Overtown Merchants, £488 11s; Wishaw Bowling Club, £400 (approximate), exclusive of £300 raised for other war charities; Naval Red Cross Train, £216 5s 6d; Farmers and friends, £140 10s.

In all, the amount of cash raised in Wishaw, Netherton, and Overtown during the War for Red Cross purposes exceeded £8500.

To the noble band of women who so helpfully engaged in voluntary work during the War, official thanks was formally accorded, and they were allowed to retain, as interesting mementoes of their experience, the distinguishing women's war work badges which they wore.

As hon. secretary of the County Branch of the Red Cross Society, Miss Livingstone, Hill Street, rendered very valuable service; while Mr Alex. Campbell, Cam'nethan House, as hon. secretary and treasurer of the Lanarkshire Branch up till 1915, and later as a member of the general committee and of the finance committee of the Scottish Branch of the Red Cross Society, also lent able assistance. In recognition of their labours on behalf of the Red Cross, Col. R K Stewart of Murdostoun had conferred on him by the King the K.B.E. and Lady Stewart, County Vice-President, was honoured by receiving the O.B.E.

As a result of the excellent work performed by the local Branch, the Red Cross Society presented to the Wishaw and District Ambulance Association a handsome Motor Ambulance – one of the waggons which did splendid service during the War.

THE YOUNG BRIGADE

Organisations which played a conspicuous part during the War period were the Y.M.C.A. Boy Scouts and the 2nd Wishaw Company the Boy's Brigade. Each was well represented in the Forces on land and sea, a number of the lads fell in honour's cause, and others won distinction in the field. The members who were too young to engage in active hostilities made themselves indispensably useful at home, their services being always available in connection with charitable war efforts and all other beneficent objects promoted in the town.

WAR TROPHIES

Alongside is a photo of a German 4.2 field gun presented to the burgh by the War Trophies Committee in recognition of Wishaw's successful War Savings efforts.

The town also accepted the "custody and safekeeping" of a captured heavy field gun and carriage.

THE CHURCHES' PART

As became them, the Churches played a conspicuous part in the great conflict for justice and freedom. From the start they gave a lead in encouraging the spirit of patriotism amongst their young men, of whom over 2000 belonging to the various congregations in the burgh joined the Forces, while many of the young women wore with distinction the emblem of the Red Cross, under which they rendered noble service. The extent to which the Churches have suffered in the loss of actual and potential workers can be estimated by the fact that close on 300 of those who went from their midst will not return again. Of the local ministers, two – the Rev. J A F Dean, M.A., Chalmers U.F. church, and the Rev. George Fraser, M.A., Bonkle U.F. Church – enlisted in the ranks, and afterwards gained Commissions in the Army. The Rev. J A Nicholls, who before becoming Parish Minister of Cambusnethan was for a year attached to the War Hospitals in France, holds the 1914-15 Star and retains the honorary title of C.F.;

and the Rev. J P Murdoch, B.D., Cambusnethan U.F. Church, was also on service in France as Chaplain to the Forces, and likewise holds the honorary title of C.F. The Revs. Wm. Clark, B.D., Wishaw Parish Church; Alex. Pollock, M.A., Congregational Church; W.H. Campbell, Shieldmuir Methodist Church; and Mr G W Eakins, lay reader, Cambusnethan Parish Church, all served for periods in France with the Y.M.C.A. or Scottish Churches Huts; while Mr John T McKerrigan performed important organising and secretarial duties for the Y.M.C.A. in France, and was mentioned in despatches. The various congregations vied with each other in providing, as far as lay in their power, for the comfort of the young men and women of their number who were on service. There was hardly a Church which had not its Guild or Work Party doing duty, and the number of articles of wear which were regularly turned out for the men in the trenches, in the camps, and in the hospitals, did credit alike to the skill of hand and kindness of heart. This fine spirit was specially manifested at recurring festive seasons, when the hearts of the boys were made glad by the receipt of parcels containing gifts of good cheer, reminding them that they were not forgotten at home. Another work party which laboured constantly and well on behalf of the men on service was that of the B.W.T.A., the members of which turned out some 2,500 woollen garments, which were sent for the most part direct to the fronts. The Churches also proved the backbone of the War Savings movement, and in the several campaigns which were held, the friendly rivalry aroused contributed in no small degree to the success of these efforts on behalf of the War Loan. Each anniversary of the War was marked by special services in the various Churches, and united services were held at which the local public bodies attended in their representative capacity. On Sunday, 6th July, 1919, a united service of thanksgiving for Peace was held in Thornlie U.F. Church, the preacher being the Rev. J A F Dean, M.A., recently demobilised. After the signing of the Armistice the returning soldiers were cordially welcomed home at social gatherings held in connection with the different congregations. Memorials of the War of a suitable character will be erected in connection with most of the Churches.

WORK OF THE Y.M.C.A.

The War presented to the Y.M.C.A. its opportunity and so well was it grasped that the influence of the Association has been immeasurably increased thereby. Wherever the troops were, there was the ever-welcome sign of the Red Triangle to be found – a sure guarantee that the social and moral and material interests of the boys were being attended to. Besides sending out workers to assist in the camps at home and at the front, the local Y.M.C.A. kept open-door for all men in service uniform, its splendidly equipped Institute (opened some months after the outbreak of hostilities) being a popular rendezvous for the men home on leave throughout the War. The Association had a reflected glory in the honour conferred on its active and esteemed President, Mr H Lightbody, J.P., whose work at national headquarters was recognised by his enrolment as a Member of the British Empire Order (M.B.E.). Since the Armistice the Y.M.C.A. has continued to manifest a kindly interest in the returned soldiers, who can enjoy all the privileges of the Institute at half the ordinary membership rate. Upwards of 200 of the young men connected with the Association joined His Majesty's Forces, and of that number about a score made the supreme sacrifice.

THE SCHOOLS AND THE WAR

All the schools in the parish were more or less affected by the war. The men teachers and officials who were of military ages and fit for service were drafted into the Army, and several of the lady teachers did duty as nurses. The vacancies in the staff were filled by temporary teachers, mostly married ladies, who “did their bit” by laying aside their domestic duties for the time being and resuming their quondam occupation. Elsewhere reference has been made to the splendid help given by the schools to the War Savings movement, the total amount subscribed through the respective Associations for War Loan purposes being over £8,000. The schoolgirls also did much valuable work in the way of knitting comforts for the men on service.

Of the members of the staff who served with the colours, three made the supreme sacrifice, and, remarkable to relate, all were connected with Wishaw Academy. A memorial tablet – subscribed for by present and former pupils, and the teachers and members of Cambusnethan School Board – has been erected to their memory in the school hall.

The “War Relief” activities of the High School staff and pupils, which were many and varied, perhaps call for special mention. Parcels of socks and other comforts were sent regularly at Christmas-time to former pupils on service. Upwards of £1512 was invested in the War Loan through the School War Savings Association. Demonstrations in war cookery were given by the domestic science staff to housewives in the district. Flag days and monthly collections were held on behalf of various War Relief Funds. (For the last two years the High School pupils have run the Flag Days on behalf of the National Lifeboat Institution.) The proceeds from the school concerts and operettas during the last five years have, either in whole or in part, been devoted to War Relief Funds.

In 1918 and 1919 very successful Fancy Dress Parades were organised and carried out by the staff and pupils – in 1918 for the Red Cross Funds and in 1919 for the Burgh Hero Memorial Fund. Former pupils on war service were, after demobilisation, warmly welcomed home at a social and dance organised and financed by the staff and pupils.

The school Roll of Honour records the names of 233 former pupils, of whom 30 laid down their lives during the war. A suitable memorial tablet will be placed in the school hall, and an annual bursary competition will further perpetuate the memory of those bright and promising lives sacrificed in the cause of honour and freedom.

CO-OPERATIVE CONTRIBUTION

Few organisations contributed more generously to the various war efforts than Wishaw Co-operative Society. The number of its employees who enlisted was 42, and of these six made the supreme sacrifice, while one of the directors – Sergeant McCandlish – also fell in action.

Allowances for employees who were on military service were made at the rate per week of 7s 6d for married men and 5s for single men, the total payments under this head amounting to over £1779. The employees who carried on at home contributed to the National War Relief Fund in all £481.

On seven different occasions the Society hospitably entertained parties of wounded soldiers from military hospitals, and three social gatherings were arranged at which demobilised soldiers were cordially welcomed home – the money disbursed in this way amounting to £313.

From first to last the Society has invested in War Loan Stock and Bonds a total of nearly £10,000, while contributions were made to various War Funds aggregating upwards of £250.

During the war period the work carried on by the Co-operative Women’s Guild was notable for its extensiveness and for the enthusiasm with which it was accomplished. Its members threw themselves heart and soul into their labour of providing comforts for our sailors and soldiers. Each quarter the Guild received from the Board of Management a gift of money, and this was expended in the purchase of materials which the members made up in a variety of acceptable forms. In this way a very large number of parcels was packed and dispatched to the different theatres of war. The Guild, in addition, gave a substantial subscription to the funds of Stobhill Hospital, Glasgow, and, as a coming-of-age- gift, handed over a donation of £50 towards the erection of a local Hero Memorial. The Guild members also lent valuable assistance in connection with the entertainments given by the Board of Management to wounded soldiers.

THE ARMISTICE - AND AFTER

The day on which the Armistice was signed was memorable for the spontaneous rejoicing which took place throughout the district. "Down tools" was the order in all the works, business was generally suspended for the day, and the population gave themselves over to a subdued yet unmistakably sincere manifestation of the joy that was in every heart because the War was at length over, and the long period of anxiety and suffering ended.

Suitably worded messages of congratulation and thanks were forwarded by the Provost to the respective heads of the Government, the Army and the Navy, from whom appreciative acknowledgments were received in due course. Our civic rulers also took the lead in a memorable service of thanksgiving for the cessation of hostilities and supplication for comfort for the bereaved. Later the boys were welcomed home by the various Churches and other organisations with which they were connected, and a joint welcome to all was extended by the Town Council, the Churches and the Y.M.C.A.

Since their return to civil life, many of the discharged and demobilised men have identified themselves with the local branches of the Comrades of the Great War and the Scottish Federation of Discharged and Demobilised Sailors and Soldiers – organisations which have been instrumental in a large degree in safeguarding the rights and improving the lot of ex-servicemen generally, and, especially, of the disabled men and the dependants of those who "died that we might live".

CAMBUSNETHAN

The people of Cambusnethan village had their fair share of the sacrifice and suffering, and also the honours of War. In all 310 of the young men donned the King's uniform, and of that number one in every seven died a soldier's death, while fully one-third of those who enlisted figured in the casualty lists. To a Cambusnethan lad fell the greatest honour a soldier can win – the Victoria Cross – and six others were also awarded medals for bravery in the field.

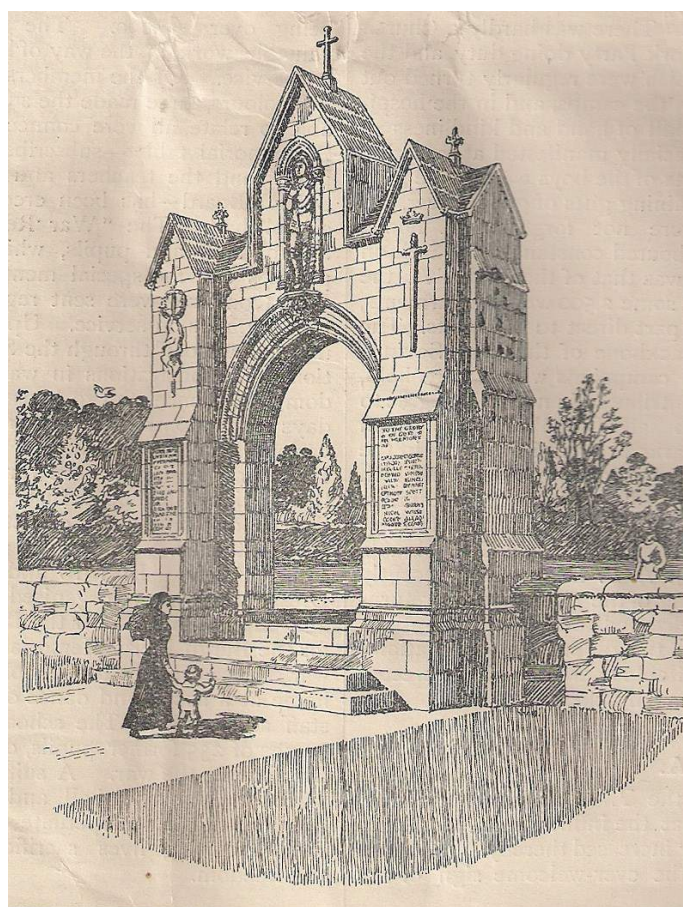

Those who remained at home also did their part creditably, alike in their contributions to the various War funds and charities and in their support of the dependants of those on military service. A centre of the village life during the War was the Post Office, where Mr J W Graham and his revered wife acted as guides, counsellors and friends to the villagers in their difficulties concerning allowances, gratuities, etc. The Postmaster was also the leader in the various local war efforts, originating the Hero Memorial scheme (later merged in the Burgh Memorial), and organising the Parish Allotment-holders Association. The latter has now jurisdiction over 12 different areas, and has a membership of 500. In the Cambusnethan area two plots were specially set aside and worked, and from these each year fully 100 stones of potatoes were distributed amongst the deserving poor people of the village.

From Mr Houldsworth of Coltness the community have secured ground which will be laid out as a Memorial Public Park in memory of those who have fallen in the war. Ex-Provost Nimmo has gifted for the Park an ornamental fountain, and within the enclosure will also be placed a captured 4.7 German gun presented by the War Trophies Committee in recognition of the part played by the village in the war.

WAR MEMORIALS

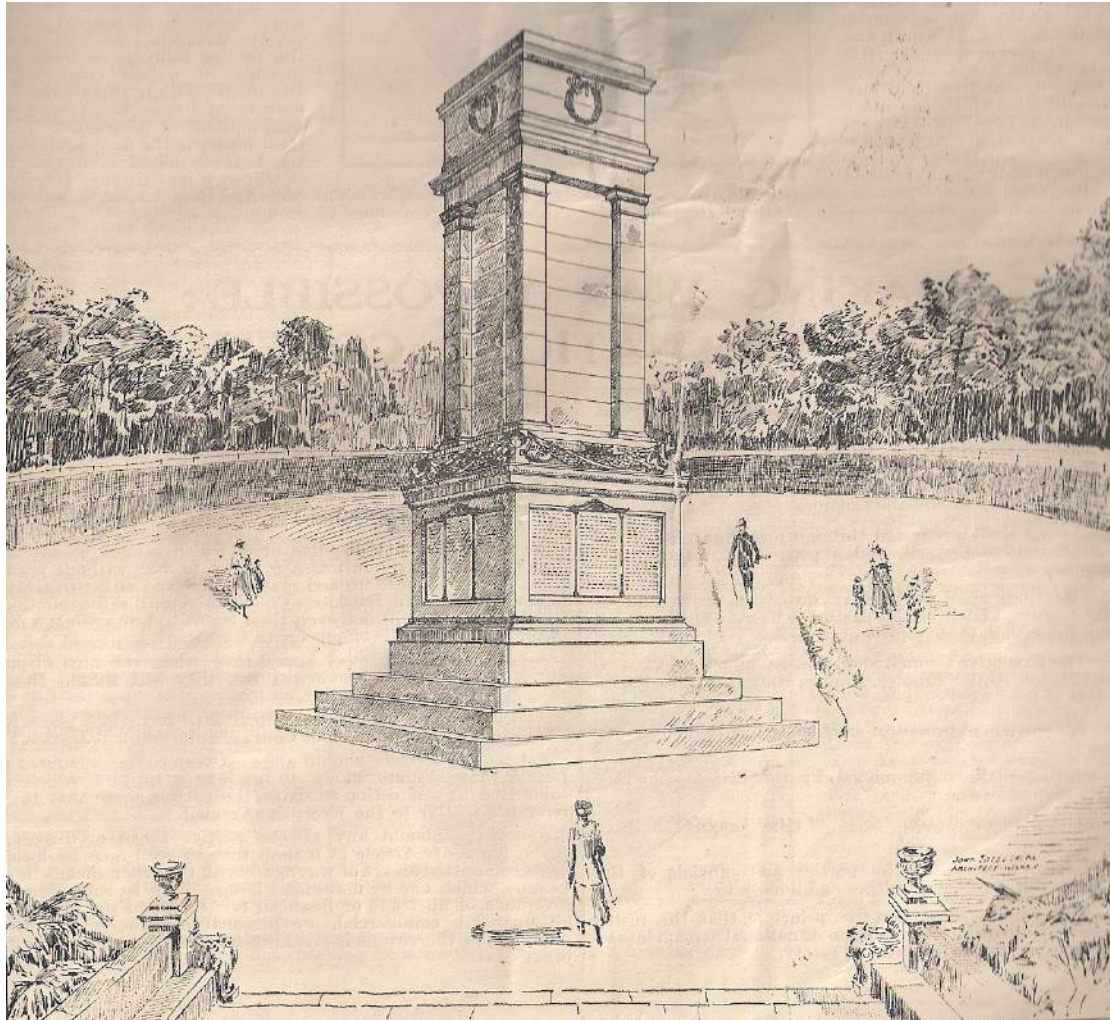

Since the cessation of hostilities, the question of providing adequate and lasting memorials by which succeeding generations will be reminded of the part played by Wishaw in the great and historic struggle and the noble sacrifice made by so many of its gallant sons, has been receiving much attention in the community. As a fitting tribute by the citizens of the town to the heroic band of Wishaw men who have laid down their lives as a sacrifice on the altar of liberty and justice, it has been arranged to place on an ideal site within the Coltness housing area a chaste memorial, monumental in character, on which will be inscribed all the names of the noble dead. In addition there will be various sectional memorials erected throughout the burgh. At Cambusnethan and Craigneuk, where ground has been secured, memorial parks will be attractively laid out in honour of the men belonging to these districts who have fallen in the war, provision also being made for perpetuating their memory by the recording of their names in permanent form.

On Sabbath, 12th October, 1919, there was unveiled and dedicated the first completed Hero Memorial in the burgh – that of the Heather Club, the members of which have erected within the grounds of Sunnyside Church a monument to the memory of their comrades who lost their lives during the war. For Cambusnethan Parish Church Mr P Macgregor Chalmers, the well-known Scottish church architect, has designed an elaborate memorial which provides for the ornamentation of the ground in front of the church and the erection of a striking monument with panels for the names of the honoured dead who belonged to the church, as well as for a record of the part played by the parish generally in the world war.

Cambusnethan Parish Church War Memorial

At Chalmers U.F. Church a memorial has been placed on the vestibule wall, the main features of which are a central monument with tablets and side panels on which are inscribed the complete Congregational Roll of Honour. A somewhat similar monument is to be place in the vestibule of Wishaw Parish Church. Appropriate tablets will be erected in most of the other Churches in honour of the men connected with the respective congregations who fell in action or died from the effects of service.

THE LANDWARD AREA'S CONTRIBUTION TO VICTORY

NEWMAINS AND DISTRICT

The contribution made by Newmains district of many essentials to the waging of the war were on the generous scale naturally to be expected from a community which had been so conspicuously loyal in its welcome to the King and Queen on the occasion of their Majesties' visit a few brief months before the outbreak of hostilities. The Coltness Works – the immense resources of which were placed at the disposal of this country and of our allies – supplied great quantities of all manner of war requirements – the blast furnaces, the foundries, the coal pits, the brickwork, the cement work, the gas, and other departments all contributing their share of materials needed for constructive or destructive purposes. From first to last also there left the district for service with the colours upwards of 500 men, of whom over 70 made the great sacrifice, while military decorations to the number of 18 were gained.

Outstanding amongst local men who won distinction in the war was Dr. Dale Logan, who from being a Lieutenant in the RAMC rose to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel in the British Army. His expert knowledge of mine gas poisoning especially commended the Doctor to the Military Authorities; and for the valuable service that he rendered in connection with the mining operations which played so prominent a part in the fighting on the Western front, he not only earned high promotion, but had conferred on him the Distinguished Service Order, and in addition was several times mentioned in despatches. Since his demobilisation, Lieut-Colonel Dale Logan has been further honoured by invitations to lecture on his War experiences before the British Medical Association and other technical and scientific representative bodies.

Nor was Newmains behind in providing the “silver bullets” for the successful prosecution of the War. The employees of the Coltness and other local works, as well as the business people, subscribed to the County war Relief Fund from September, 1915, to June, 1919, the grand total of £7267 13s 2d – the local fund being managed by Mr Thomas Tudhope, treasurer, and Mr James Gray, secretary. The War Savings Associations under the aegis of the Newmains Committee – of which Mr J F Inglis was chairman and Mr J W Jamieson, secretary and treasurer – contributed close on £56,000, made up of fully £36,000 in War Bonds and the balance in War Savings Certificates. During the Special War Weapons Week Campaign, in April, 1918, Newmains district aimed at raising £1,500 (the price of a Scout Aeroplane), and the amount actually realised was “11,060 – a sum equivalent to providing seven aeroplanes and seven machine guns.

One of the most energetic, efficient and helpful agencies in the district during the war was the Newmains Section of the Red Cross Society. Its Voluntary Aid Detachment shortly after the outbreak of hostilities was close on a hundred strong, the women and men members being about equal in numbers. Of the women V.A.D.'s, 14 did duty at Hartwoodhill Auxiliary Hospital, and seven served in military hospitals at home and abroad – two in France, one in Egypt, two at Stobhill and two at Aberdeen. Those who remained at home were most active in voluntary service. Organised by the Commandant, Miss Inglis, the Sphagnum Moss Work Party was formed in 1916, and during its three years existence, the hospital supplies turned out by the members comprised 4831 complete dressings, 193 pillows, and 58 sacks of moss. It is noteworthy that Mrs McWhirter, Westwood, supplied nearly all the sphagnum moss for the party. The representative Work Party also forwarded to the County Depot at Hamilton considerable quantities of articles of clothing, food, etc, including socks, pyjama and hospital suits, pants, ham, books. In all, during the four years - 1915-1918 - the articles made and dispatched for the men of the Forces numbered 5314. The Section was equally successful in the amount of money raised under its auspices, the principal sources of revenue being - a Penny-a-Week Fund, Concerts and Flag Days. During Red Cross Week in 1918 alone, Newmains contributed £480; and in the same year £130 was raised by Newmains Public School staff and pupils, whose total war contributions (exclusive of War Savings) reached the sum of over £300.

In the Scottish Hospital at Rouen, a "Newmains Bed" was endowed, and each year £50 was raised for its upkeep. Altogether the Red Cross in Newmains contributed for war purposes a total of over £1500. Those mainly responsible for the success of the Section and its work were Miss Russell, Whitestripe, who was secretary and treasurer till the end of 1916 (she was also a County vice-president); Mrs W G Russell, Auchter House, and Miss Inglis, joint secretaries and treasurers from 1916 onwards; Muss Russell, Plevna, Flag Day organiser; Dr Little, medical officer; Miss Fisher, Rozelle, lady superintendent; Miss Inglis, Commandant; Mrs William Oliver, Messrs S C Robinson and A Halliday, quartermasters.

Throughout the War the members of the Co-operative Women's Guild played a worthy part, their nimble fingers being employed in the making of comforts for the men serving with the colours and their dependants at home, while all the surplus cash they could raise was disbursed in subscriptions to Limbless and Blind Heroes, Prisoners of War, and Red Cross Funds. In the first year garments were made and distributed amongst the children of Morningside, Chapel, Newmains and Cambusnethan, whose fathers were on military service. Entertainments were also given to wounded soldiers from Woodside and Hartwoodhill Hospitals and local repatriated prisoners of war. One of their last actions was the granting of a donation of £10 to the Parish Hero Memorial Fund. In connection with the Guild a War Savings Association was also carried on, the total sum invested in the War Loan being over £600. The members can look back on their varied and sustained War efforts with a feeling of justifiable pride and satisfaction.

To perpetuate the memory of the "glorious dead" a scheme has been agreed upon which embraces the whole of the landward area of the parish. The particular form of the War Memorial is a Cenotaph similar to the one erected in London. The creator of that famous War shrine has consented to prepare the design of the Parish Memorial, an ideal site for which has been secured in the centre of Newmains Cross. On the four tables of the Cenotaph will be inscribed the names of all the men in the Parish outwith the Burgh of Wishaw who fell in the Great War.

MORNINGSIDE AND CHAPEL

The patriotism displayed by the people of Morningside district was in no degree behind that manifested in any other locality, either as regards the response to the call to the young manhood for service with the colours, or in the matter of wholehearted effort on the part of those who remained at home. From the local colliery, where most of them were employed, there went forth to war upwards of 150 men, and of these about 30 were killed in action or died from the effects of the campaigning, while some half-dozen distinguished themselves in the field and gained decorations. During the war the workmen of the Chapel Colliery made regular contributions to the County and local War Relief Funds, these amounting in all to roughly £1200. Part of this money was devoted to the relief of necessitous cases in the locality, a workers committee efficiently discharging this benevolent duty. The comfort of the men on service was assiduously looked after, and as each festive season came round, parcels of comforts, etc., were dispatched not only by the Ambulance Association but by the member of the St. Columba's Church. During Red Cross week in 1918, the Church and Women's Guild combined contributed a sum of £25, and on the various Flag Days the inhabitants gave with corresponding liberality. The children also lent their assistance in the successful prosecution of the war – for one thing, by their subscriptions through the School War Savings Association, which have amounted to over £1200. On being demobilised, the service men were very cordially welcomed home at social gatherings arranged by the Ambulance Association and also by the Church. The memory of the men who have fallen – for whom a memorable commemorative service was held in St. Columba's – will be perpetuated by the erection, in a suitable and central site, of a monument in every way worthy of those heroes, whose names will be inscribed thereon as a lasting testimony to the glorious part played by the district in the Great War.

OVERTOWN AND WATERLOO

The war record of Overtown district is one of which the inhabitants of the villages comprising that area have reason to be proud. To the call of King and country the young men were found ready and willing to do their part as true patriots. Those of them who were Territorials and Reservists were the first to shoulder arms, and their gallant example was followed by others until altogether the number of men on service totalled 324. Of these 36 sacrificed their lives in honour's cause, and 12 distinguished themselves on the field of battle. Those whose lot it was to remain at home – young and old alike – did their part right nobly. The contributions from the district to the County War Relief Fund reached the splendid total of £1624. The men of Garriongill Colliery subscribed fully £466, of which sum £189 was retained in the local branch fund. They were thus enabled to remember their fellow workmen who were on service with gifts of money, while two of their number who gained military decorations were each presented with a gold watch. On such occasions as the various flag fays organised in Wishaw, Overtown district always lent a generous helping hand, while through the local War Savings Association the inhabitants invested in the War Loan the handsome sum of £3500. Moreover, the people, especially the womenfolk, individually, through the Church, the Co-operative Women's Guild, and the local Tent of Rechabites, did much to provide comforts for the soldiers; but for painstaking, unwearied effort on behalf of the boys on service the achievements of the Overtown, Waterloo and Castlehill Work Party are especially worthy of record. Not only were the service men of the district remembered by a substantial parcel twice yearly, but large consignments of articles were sent to the various Scottish regiments, the four and a half years work of the Party comprising – 2500 pairs of socks, 274 scarfs, 194 pairs of mitts, 139 shirts, 246 pairs of cuffs, 83 helmets, 75 abdomen belts, innumerable handkerchiefs and towels, and an abundance of sweets, cigarettes and other extras. Latterly, instead of parcels, 10/ to each man on active service and 5/ to each man on home service were sent, while at the Armistice 10/ was gifted to each local man on service at home and abroad. Altogether about £550 was collected by the Work Party, half of that sum being sent direct to the men, and the balance expended on material for the making of comforts. A number of local ladies also formed themselves into a Sphagnum Moss Work Party, and as a result numerous dressings, etc., were despatched to headquarters for use in hospitals. Various parties of wounded soldiers were hospitably entertained, and on the cessation of hostilities the community were again ready to show their interest in and admiration of those who had fought for them. When the boys came home they received a right royal welcome. Mindful of the living heroes, the people were not forgetful of the "glorious dead". A suitable memorial tablet is to be erected within the Parish Church. The memory of the men of Overtown and Castlehill who fell in the Great War will be perpetuated by a more elaborate monument to be placed on a central site within the grounds of the Parish Church, and on which will be inscribed the names of the noble dead. The memorial fixed upon by the people of Waterloo and Gillhead is utilitarian in character, and takes the form of an Institute, whose hall, reading and recreation rooms should provide an ideal centre in the social life of these villages.

NETHERTON

Netherton's war efforts were carried out largely in conjunction with Wishaw, the inhabitants readily assisting in the various Flag Days and other schemes which were organised to promote the cause of right and liberty. To the country's fighting strength the district contributed 221 men, of whom 33 fell in action, while the gallantry of its young men resulted in the conferment of no fewer than 12 military decorations. The War Relief Funds were regularly supported by the workmen employed in the different works, but a local branch of the County Fund was also carried on, for which Mr P. Beaton was secretary and treasurer, and several ladies acted as collectors, the total amount raised being close on £200. The children also did their part by subscribing to the War Loan through the School War Savings Association upwards of £500. By organising garden fetes and galas within their ground, the South Bowling Club raised over £100 for Red Cross purposes, and parties of wounded soldiers were also entertained by the club.

CRAIGNEUK

The district of Craigneuk, comprising the area extending from Sunnyside to Flemington, is purely an industrial community, and as such was largely engaged during the war in turning out munitions. At the same time it sent nearly 800 of its young men to serve with the colours. Of these over 120 made the great sacrifice, and 20 of them were awarded decorations for gallantry in action. In all the organised efforts made by Wishaw throughout the war, Craigneuk invariably lent a generous helping hand, raising on Flag Days and by other means a very considerable sum for the Red Cross and other War Funds. The community hospitably and most cordially welcomed home the returning heroes after their demobilisation. Those who sacrificed their lives in honour's cause will have their memory perpetuated by means of a Memorial Park, where the names of the fallen and other information will be recorded which will show to coming generations what the district did and suffered in the Great European War.
